Good Music?
The Navy Plays It

In School, He Won the Honors

Robert H. Baird, 19, of Kingston, Pa., is the youngest member of the Navy Band, which will make its personal appearance here on Thursday, April 27, with two matinees and an evening concert in the College auditorium.

Musical Baird was accepted in the band when he was 18 years old. He was an honor student at Kingston high school, a member of the Pennsylvania state champion trumpet trios of 1946 and 1947, and state cornet solo champion in 1947. At Syracuse University he was soloist of the symphonic band.

United States Navy Band Will Play Three Concerts Thursday

Tomorrow is the day! Yes, tomorrow the long awaited United States Navy Band will make its appearance at the College where it will present two matinees and an evening performance.

The band, often acclaimed "The World's Finest," is conducted by Lt. Commander Charles Brendler, who is assisted by Chief Warrant Officer Richard E. Townsend.

Program Is Varied
The program at 3 p. m. will open with a "trumpet fanfare," followed by the National Anthem, "Orpheus Overture" by Jacques Offenbach, "Rumbolero" by Salvador Camarata, the finale of "Symphony No. 4" by Peter Tschalkowski, "Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson, "Circibiribi" by Alberto Pestalozza.

Solo numbers will include "Tally Ho" by Barsotti, Frank Scimonelli, soloist; "Saxophone Caprice" by Jimmy Dorsey, Carl Grove, soloist, and "Trumpet Blues" and "Cantabile" by Harry James, with Richard Earl, Robert Baird, and Richard Myers—trumpet trio—soloists. The program will be concluded with George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

Its Status Is Official
The United States Navy Band's official status as "The Band" of the United States Navy was established by act of congress in 1925.

In the fall of 1925, the band left Washington on the first of its annual tours which had been authorized by congress and approved by the President. Since then the band has played for audiences in 538 cities and 43 states of the union, as well as Canada, Alaska, Puerto Rico, Panama, Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti, and the Virgin Islands.

In 1947, for the first time since World War II began, the band started its tours again.

Important!

New Junior High School Certificate

A student who has completed the B. S. IN EDUCATION for the ELEMENTARY SCHOOL may be certified to teach subjects in a DEPARTMENTALIZED JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL (Grades 7, 8, 9) provided the teacher has approximately 60 per cent of the required number of hours to teach the subject in the secondary curriculum; in most cases this will mean 15 semester hours (where the requirement is now 24 hours for teaching in high school). Foreign language will be 15 hours and mathematics will be 9 hours.

A student who has completed the requirements for a B. S. IN EDUCATION for the high school may add additional subjects for certification to teach in grades 7, 8 and 9 by adding approximately 60 per cent of the required number of hours to teach the subject in the high school. (The same as stated above.)

Students interested in these certificates should make plans to meet these requirements. Information may be obtained from Mr. Robert Foster, registrar.

College Band Concludes Tours Until Next Year

The current year of touring by the State College Band was terminated Sunday, April 16, in the presence of representatives from five states, hundreds of Boy Scouts, and many enthusiastic spectators.

The place was St. Joseph's Civic Center and the event was the meeting of the "Crusade for the Boy Scouts of America." The two-day "Scout Meet," designed to increase citizenship in scouting, took on an authoritative note, as high ranking representatives from five states and influential men in scouting became part of the program.

Music was presented by the State College Band prior to the unveiling of a reproduction of the Statue of Liberty. Although this was the last scheduled road appearance of the band for the school year, it was considered by many as the highlight during the year's activities.

James Zink, Business Student, Receives Award

James Zink of the business department, received last week the Wall Street Journal Student Achievement Award as a reward for making the highest grade in Dr. Sterling Surrey's course in Corporation Finance.

The Award consists of a specially designed silver medal, and a year's subscription to The Wall Street Journal.

Spring Contest Winners Plan Trip to Columbia

Do you Missourians remember the thrill of spring contest success and the planning of the trip to Columbia? The following schools have been certified for participation in the Missouri State High School Speech Conference, May 5 and 6, at Columbia. Winners in the one-act play division are Hopkins, "A Minute"; Tarkio, "The Cornhusk Doll"; Cameron, "Submerged."

In public speaking James Wiss of Bethany, Bess Wells of Platte City, and Henry A. Totzke, Jr. will represent Northwest Missouri. Those who will read prose are Arthur Gruver, Parkville; Virginia Kirk, Weston; Jimmy Wright, Jamieson.

Clarice Watson of Oregon, Marcia Gore of Rock Port, and Doris Ann Wood of Cameron will read poetry. Only two schools will be entered in extempore speaking. They are Graham, represented by Dale Dorman, Jr. and St. Joseph Academy, Chillicothe, represented by Eugene Saale.

Wilbur Pollard, junior, represented Zeta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, an honor society in education, at its seventeenth biennial convocation at Spring Mill State Park, near Mitchell, Indiana, March 26-29.

The 158 institutional chapters of the U. S. each sent a delegate, and some delegates were accompanied by as many as three and four alternate delegates. Each section of the nation was represented, delegates being present from California, Washington, Florida and New York State. The site of the convocation was chosen for its fine accommodations and accessibility.

Treat Many Issues
Many issues were discussed, and, because of efficient organization, were acted upon in a democratic manner. Problems of local chapters were given priority and received adequate treatment. Issues treated were as follows: program planning and activities, proposed amendments and revisions of by-laws, problems and policies relative to the selection of members, ritual and initiation ceremonies, the role of honor societies on the college campus, the alumni chapter.

Each delegate served as a policy maker on at least three of these topics. Wright of St. Louis Is Elected
There was an election of new executive council members. Dr. Frank L. Wright of Washington University, St. Louis, and also installation officer of the local chapter, was elected to succeed Dr. William McKinley Robinson as executive president.

A plan for the building of a central home for Kappa Delta Pi was accepted and $75,000 was earmarked for that purpose.

Discuss Exchange Plan
The William Chandler Bagley teacher exchange plan was also widely discussed. This plan includes or may include all teachers. Under this plan any teacher may exchange positions with a comparable teacher anywhere in the United States, provided the teachers have three years of experience, one of the teachers is a member of Kappa Delta Pi and the administrators of both schools accept the plan. Dr. Bagley was for many years the executive president of Kappa Delta Pi.

This year's annual lecture was delivered by Dr. George D. Stoddard. He spoke on the "Education of Women."

Northwest District Librarians Will Meet Here for Conference

State Promoted Meeting Will Explain General New Requirements.

Librarians and administrators of the high schools of the northwest district will meet at the College for a library conference, May 5.

The primary purpose of the conference, which is promoted by the state library, is to explain to those present the new requirements for certification of school libraries in Missouri and how the librarians and administrators can meet the requirements.

Many Topics Will Be Discussed
Other subjects for discussion will be "What Sort of a Person a School Librarian Should Be," "What a Library Should Mean to a School," and what help the state, county, city, and college can give to school libraries. As one example a bookmobile will be on the campus during the day.

The library department of the College, under the direction of Mr. James Johnson, librarian, is in charge of the program.

Among those expected to attend the conference are Mr. Paxton P. Price, state librarian and former member of the College faculty; Miss Edna Bothe, school library specialist of the state; and Miss Dorothy Proper, Atchison County librarian. City and county librarians of the district have also been invited.

Beginning with the summer quarter, Northwest State will offer a minor in library science, Mr. Johnson stated.

Courses offered this summer will include those in literature for the elementary school and for the adolescent, audio-visual aids, organizing and administering a school library, library materials for schools, teaching through the use of the library.

Chicago Art Draws Eight From College

Miss DeLuce, Mr. Gibson, Six Students Attend Two Conventions.

On April 3, Ralph Cushman, Ardra Cornelius, Wilhelmina Edie, Mary Virginia Scott, Charlene Welsh, Bill Harris, Mr. Elery Gibson of Horace Mann, and Miss Olive DeLuce, head of the College art department, motored to Chicago to attend the combined art convention of the Western Arts Association and the National Art Education Association.

The convention, held in the Palmer Hotel, featured many discussions on how far the art educator should go toward accepting modern art. The theme of the program was "Bridging Barriers." This correlation between one area of art and another was illustrated by a program presented by high school students called the "Festival of Art," a combination of art exhibits, choral and instrumental numbers and dances. Many of the students participating in the dances had designed and executed their own costumes.

See Student Exhibition
In connection with the convention was a student exhibition that consisted of works of art from all age groups under the guidance of authorities in the field of art education.

The annual banquet of the convention was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Palmer Hotel on April 4. A fashion show, anticipating the costumes of 1950, and luncheon was also held in the Ballroom the following day. All the fashions shown were of an abstract or impressionistic design. On one occasion, the Grand Ballroom was converted into small booths in which artists in various fields demonstrated their particular art or craft such as weaving, dress designing, and woodcarving.

Simultaneous with the convention was the showing of the Van Gogh paintings at the Chicago Art Institute. The group also attended a tea at the Associated American Artists Gallery where they met several contemporary American artists. Visit Chicago University
Some time was spent at the University of Chicago and its Oriental Museum, and at the Museum of Modern Science and Industry. Those making the trip went on a conducted tour through the Merchandise Mart Building where they were permitted to see the Harry Miller furniture exhibit which is not usually open to the public.

An interesting sidelight to the convention was the visit to the stage play, "Kiss Me Kate." The students toured the famous hotels, visited the Planetarium, the Aquarium, and the Chicago Natural History Museum. The convention was closed with an old-fashioned square dance.

Alumnus in Germany Tours Mediterranean Countries

M. Sgt. Irl Satterlee, who graduated from Northwest State with a B. S. degree in Education, has recently returned from a 17 day tour of Mediterranean countries.

Satterlee left Stuttgart, Germany, and traveled through Switzerland and Italy to France. He returned by way of North Africa.

Reminiscing, Sgt. Satterlee recalled losing 300 francs at Monte Carlo and an exhilarating bit of bargaining while stopping at Tangiers, only to find that the article he finally purchased (for about one-fourth of the starting price) had been made in New York.

Sgt. Satterlee, who did post graduate work at the University of Missouri, taught school for six years and eventually became a superintendent of schools. Thought Music Was a Hobby

Twenty-one-year-old Carl Grove of Elkhart, Indiana, enlisted in the Navy three years ago as fire patrolman. He thought music was strictly a man's own private hobby.

He loved his hobby, though, and filled out an application one day to go to the United States Navy Music School in Washington. He was, to his surprise, accepted and got orders to pack his duffel bag and leave the Light Cruiser, San Pedro, to go to the Nation's capital. Now, to his surprise again, he's been selected as one of the soloists with the United States Navy Band for the concert tour appearing here tomorrow.

ASSEMBLY WATCH
Let us stop our hurrying around for a moment and give a nod of approval to the committee who plans our assembly programs. There really is a lot of work to planning weekly programs which are both educational and entertaining. If the College student would just spend a little time thinking how to help the planning committee and improve our programs instead of just griping the situation would be ideal.

I would suggest "passing the buck" a little.
Why not make each class, sorority, and fraternity, and other campus organizations responsible for one assembly program during the year? These organizations are formed for the purpose of improving the College and should be glad to help in this way.—Ken England.

DOES THE RIGHT SHOE FIT?
One of Maryville's better recreational facilities is the new concrete surfaced tennis court. The new court was made available to College students two years ago, and it goes without saying that the concrete playing surface was a big improvement over the clay courts.

Tennis is a wonderful sport when you are able to play on a court such as the one we now have at our disposal, but just like any other piece of athletic equipment, it must be cared for. Wearing tennis shoes is the least consideration we can give the new courts. Street shoes not only hinder the players' game but they also mar and deface
the court.

Several holes and chipped places have already developed on the surface of the new court, merely because some player did not have the ambition to obtain the proper type of shoe.

Some of you will say, "Yes, but we hold dances on the court. What harm can there be in playing tennis in street shoes?" Yes, that is true. We do hold dances on the court and that provokes a new discussion. Were the courts constructed for dancing or were they built for tennis?

Think about this, you tennis fans! Can both activities take place on our court? We can dance in Room 114 or at the Country Club, but we can play tennis at only one place. And that place is the tennis court.

It seems that wearing a pair of soft soled shoes is the least we can do toward the maintenance of our court.—Charles Newton.

IT GOES WELL
When I went to high school at Horace Mann
the library had a large staff of students working at the main desk to check out books. I was away from the campus about three years and when I came back I found many changes had been made.

Under the new plan, when one wants a book
he finds the number in the card catalogue and then goes into the stacks to find it. I think this is a good plan because one can look around to find the book he needs. Under the old system he sometimes got what he thought was the right book, but often it was not. It had to be returned and a new one hunted for.—Dan Barger.

WHAT I LIKE BEST
The campus at Maryville is unexcelled for pure beauty. The long rolling lawns can still give me a thrill, unmatched by mountains or sea, and this after eight years. Being so close to a thing seems to cover it with a cloak of drabness, usually, but not the campus.

The sight of our (my) campus, no matter if in spring or under a blanket of snow, has a beauty that grows for me. When things go wrong, as they often do, I have but to walk the deep lawns to feel again that this is something of which I am part—that all's right with the world.
—Zea Grissinger.

Just a Letter
Earth
1950

Dear Joe,
Well, I finally made it. My maiden voyage to another planet,
but let me tell you now—I believe every minute is worth my time spent away from home. The people are different.

They say the Greeks had a yen for it, but for the life of me they look so funny growing beards. Even Mr. Thin Blade, I guess it is, is protesting about Melvin Hubble's
long black whiskers.

I will tell you more about the whiskers when I get home. Now I want to tell you about a couple of other fellows. One is Richard R.
Miller who says he hasn't done a single exciting thing except spit on the floor of the Smoker. William Davis of West Virginia wants these same earthy people to realize that he is from West Virginia and will be damned if he ain't gonna go back to West Virginia.

This same bunch of people had a little race the other day with some boys of another territory. The funniest thing about it was a little man named Zuchowski running third in a dash with an Indian running along in front calling,
"Come on, Zuch!"

Yes, Joe, we thought they were civilized down here, but some of the things that happen. I'll tell you —there was one honest fellow who said good-bye to his girl at the gymnatorium and was walking along the sidewalk when he felt it sprinkle. At least he thought it was a sprinkle, if there hadn't been one of the rooms on the third floor. Someone turned a bucket of water upside down.

Then too, Joe, I made a note of a few people I saw around here.
There was Bud Carmichael and Martha Judah at the Phi Sig dance, Dick Phipps and Pat Agan at the Tau dance. I don't know why I remember these so much unless it was just the striking appearance.
Yeah, Mike Nichols was having a fine time too. Where were you Mike?

There are some things going on down here that make a guy realize that it isn't all in vain. There are picnics at the newly discovered
"Tomcat Beach". Jack Price going on a vacation to the South. . .
and Slim Tanner wishing he could too. . . Joan Groom looking for Carroll Wilkerson at the All Greek Dance. . . Max Kinney looking for jokes at the same affair. . . Nadine Cramer, commonly spelled Crammer, hankerin' for Texas. . . Monty Pitner and Homedale expressing views on American history.

Joe, I know some of these things
don't interest you, but I'll explain when I get home. I do want to tell you though that the new parking lot is fine, but there is a rumor of building another behind the dorm
for Sunday afternoon purposes.
OH! Sunbathers taking the sun.

With this parting thought that "a thing of beauty is a beer forever" I remain your obedient servant.

They Were Not Race-bred!

Amazed Group of High School Seniors
Discover Mysteries in Laws of Physics

Visiting high school seniors were both thrilled and amazed by Monday's science show. Although some of the "tricks" looked like magic or sleight of the hand, they were actually based upon the laws of physics.

Electric eyes were used in two of the demonstrations. The first was a large box with an opening in which was placed a candle and watches. A sign invited the visitors to light the candle, but as soon as a match was struck, the electric eye switched on a vacuum cleaner
which blew out the match.

Hear Music Over Air
In the second demonstration, the visitors heard music played over a beam of light which was picked up by an electric eye and converted to sound. They found that they could stop the music by holding a hand in the light beam.

Motion can be stopped, slowed,
or reversed by the stroboscopic light. It performed for the guests by making a drop of water appear to run uphill and by making a scrambled group of letters on a whirling disc spell out "Welcome to
S. T. C."

Hear Voices, Too
Many of the visitors heard for the first time what their voices really sound like. Dwan Wick demonstrated his wire recorder by interviewing members of the group, then playing the recording for them. An oscilloscope connected to the apparatus traced the sound waves on a fluorescent screen, thus enabling the seniors to see as well as hear their voices.

Electricity, too, performed in several ways for the spectators.
One of the noisiest of the demonstrations was the impulse generator, referred to by some people as the "electric shot-gun." This device charged a series of condensers while they were connected in parallel. When each condenser had stored up a 6,000 volt charge they were discharged in series. The resulting 60,000 volt jolt produced a bright flash of flame and rattled
the windows.

See Jacob's Ladder
Another electrical display was the Jacob's ladder, in which a high-voltage electric arc climbs a "ladder." As soon as one arc reaches the top and disappears, another starts at the bottom.

Radio was there, too. Radio waves
from a miniature radio transmitter were used to show how energy is transmitted through space. The waves from the transmitter were approximately the wave length of waves used in television, and were short enough to be measured with a yardstick. (Waves transmitted by a broadcasting station may be as much as a third of a mile long.)

It's Done With Mirrors!
"Now you see it—now you don't."
Visitors saw a light bulb burning in an ordinary socket, but when they approached for a closer look, they were amazed to find only the empty socket. (It's all done with mirrors.) Another light bulb burned in a glass jar of water with no outside connections. It was connected to a coil of wire, which picked up electrical energy from a larger coil nearby.

Some minerals look like ordinary rocks by daylight but when illuminated by invisible ultraviolet light, they show an eerie light. A display of a number of specimens of these fluorescent minerals proved interesting to the visiting seniors.

The science show was prepared by Mr. M. D. Long and Mr. G. E.
Gross, instructors in the physics department. They were assisted by several physics students.

Little Poem

I love this paper
I think it's swell;
Every other Wednesday
I rush pell-mell
To get my copy
And read each line,
The stories and columns
I think are fine.

I laugh at the jokes,
And read all the ads.
I note all the news,
And take up the fads.

When I praise the paper
I scorn those who laugh
I'm really most loyal,
I'm on the staff.

Borrowed.

ed card games and watched television programs.

THE STROLLER

Life grows more complex. Word is out now that there should be more new activities
and organizations on the campus.

It has been suggested that the following committees appoint themselves immediately:
Committee to assure appearance of Sally Rand in coming College assembly.
Committee to see that class bells ring for each period.
Committee to investigate sanity of Robert during writing of his Rules of Order.
Committee to obtain records of all tests
given and those to be given.
Committee to examine teachers who give Monday morning tests.

It has been hinted that the following clubs
should be organized:
Golf Club for Overworked Students
Special Club for Suit Case Students
Club Promoting the Giving of B's to All Students
Chuckhole Fillers Club

Some have proposed that a Date Bureau
be opened. Others are interested in a Lobby for Students who want grades for outside work and want the grades placed on their transcripts.

The Stroller has heard that the above groups should organize, do a thing or three,
and be honored in assembly.

Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity Holds Conclave

Highlighting the year's social events for the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity was the conclave held here the week-end of April 14-16. The members were hosts to Tota chapter, Warrensburg; Gamma, Kirksville; and Theta, Cedar Falls, Iowa. Above are pictured some of the hosts and guests at the conclave.

Phi Sigma Epsilon Is Conclave Host

Brothers Discuss Problems With Phi Sig Pledges Waiting on Tables.

The week end of April 14-16 was for the Phi Sigs one of the high lights of the year's social events; Nu Chapter was the host to Tota of Warrensburg, Gamma of Kirksville and Theta chapter of Iowa State Teachers in Cedar Falls.

The order of events for the week end began with registration Friday evening and dancing at the American Legion Club in Maryville.

The first business session was held in the Phi Sig's chapter room Saturday morning. Dean Jacobs, Theta Chapter, was elected chairman and Frank Johnson, Nu Chapter, secretary of the business meetings. The brother Phi Sigs discussed several matters which confront the chapters of Phi Sigma Epsilon. The meeting adjourned at 12 and resumed at 1:30 in the afternoon and continued until nearly 4 o'clock.

A noon lunch was served at the Legion Club for the Nu boys and their guests. A banquet was held Saturday evening at the Legion Club. Short talks were given by Jim Pool, Nu president, the fraternity sponsors, Mr. W. T. Garrett and Mr. H. R. Dieterich, and Magk Miller, alumnus from Maryville. T. Davis, Kirksville, extended his chapter's invitation to the chapters present to attend the conclave to be held in Kirksville next fall. Entertainment was furnished by Lyle (Burl Ives) Martin, the frat quartet and Whitney Hubbell.

After the banquet the Phi Sigs and their dates spent the evening talking and dancing in the club rooms of the Legion Hall.

The conclave was brought to a close with a breakfast Sunday morning. The waiters at all the meals were pledges to the fraternity.

Alpha Sigmas Select Two for Annual Honors

Pauline Cramer has been selected by the Phi Phi chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority as their candidate for the Elizabeth Small Award. This award is made yearly by the National Awards Committee from all of the ASA chapters in the country.

In the fall of 1949 the National Council of Alpha Sigma Alpha announced the establishment of a new award. This second award is the Frost Fidelity Award. It is a different kind of award for it deals with intangible fraternity values as the name Fidelity implies. Betty Lou Lawrence has been chosen by the Phi Phi chapter to represent this group in the national selection. Betty was chosen because of her continuous vital contributions to ASA chapter life and fellowship and her typification of the ideals of ASA.

The national winners of both of these coveted awards will be announced in the November 1950 issue of "Phoenix," national ASA publication.

Master Rodney Davis Leaves Lonesome Girls

Life at the Home Management house was much more lively and interesting when four-year-old Rodney Davis of Lock Springs visited his mother, Mrs. Betty Davis, College student who lives at the house this quarter.

During his stay, Rodney attended kindergarten in the mornings and in the afternoons he was observed and supervised in his activities by each of the other young women of the house, who enjoyed this experience fully as much as did their guest. When anyone approached Rodney with the question, "How long are you visiting Mother?" Rodney, holding out both hands and outstretched fingers, would reply, "I'm gonna stay 'is many more days." For several days after he had gone the pitter of little feet was missed by all the girls.

Besides Mrs. Davis, the other students living at the house this quarter are Mrs. Franklin Blithos, Peggy Ford, Lavonne Westcott, Mrs. Frances Lemmon, and their supervisor, Miss Elizabeth Hull.

Scavenger Hunt Sends Off Kampusers to Doors

Who was that knocking at the door Thursday night? It was probably one of the O. K. kids after an autograph, baby picture, Indian head penny, left handed catcher's mit or something else for their scavenger hunt. Someone spotted President Joe Collier crawling around the College pond with a flash light. He said he was hunting night crawlers, but others thought it was fish.

As the membership drive was a tie with no losers to give a party, the losers of the scavenger hunt, Bill Yanch's team, are planning a picnic for the winners, Russell Terhune's team.

The club is considering the purchasing of pins. Ross Wilson, Shirley Alden, Phyllis Terhune, Myrtle Comer and Joyce Gillispie volunteered to be guides for Senior Day.

Kenneth Ausmus announced a card party for the next regular meeting, April 27.

On exhibition at the Library this week are examples of art work done by the students of the College art department.

Horace Mann Play Is Well Attended

'And Came the Spring' Is Presented by Seniors Before 450 People.

An insight to the spring season was given by the Senior Class of Horace Mann, when members presented the play "And Came the Spring" Friday night at the College auditorium before an audience of about 450 people.

It was a brightly humorous story of the Hartmans, a typical American family, going through the trials and pleasures of spring vacation.

Midge Causes Trouble
Many tense situations developed, and many laughs, too, as the spirited Midge, the family's youngest, tried to manage the lives and emotions of others to achieve her own ends.

Both Elliott and Virginia, her brother and sister, suffered from Midge's antics, as did her father and mother. In fact, every member of the cast suffered as a result of Midge's interference.

Everything turned out happily in the end, however, when Midge, realizing her mistakes, stopped in and salvaged her family's happiness.

Seventeen are in cast. Appearing in the play were Pat Schulte, Audra Williams, Voncie

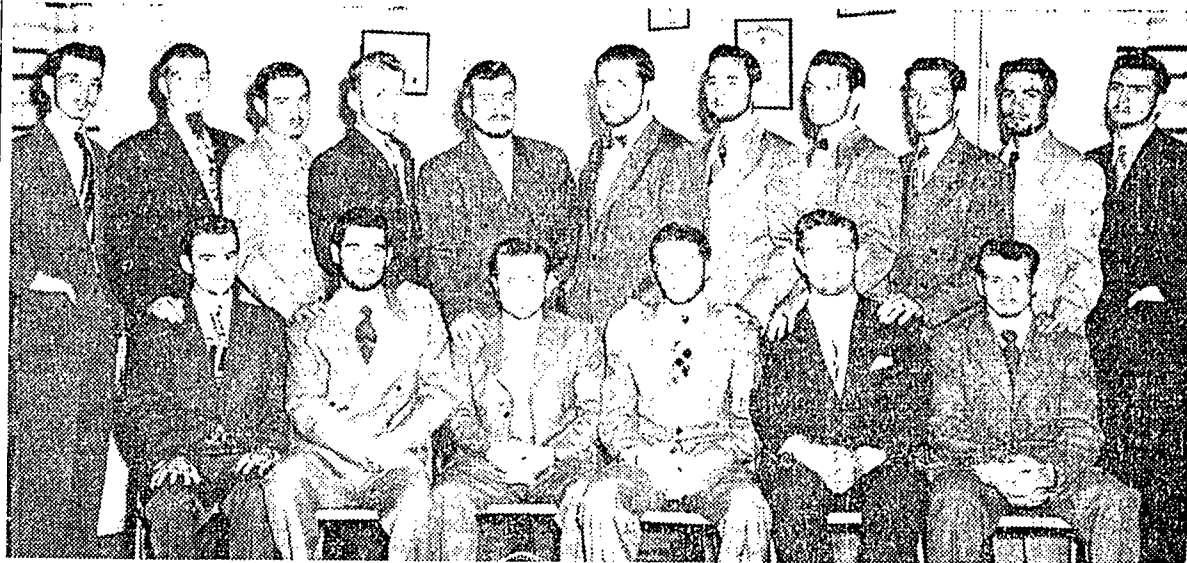

Brodrick, Twyla McFarland, Burton Lyle, Mary White, Herman Sallee, Charles Doran, Frankie Babb, Milton Hanna, Ann Schneider, Carolyn Younger, Winona Floyd, Edwin Sturm, Helen Twaddle, Wilbur Hackett, and Don Rasco.

"And Came the Spring," directed by F. James Rybak of the College English department, was a joint project of members of the Horace Mann Senior Class. A program committee, a stage crew, an advertisement committee, a ticket committee, and a committee of ushers were elected within the group to perform the activities that are so necessary to a play.

Dr. June Cozine, chairman of the home economics department, spoke to a group of senior girls at a tea given by the Extension Clubs of Andrew County in Seward, Mo., Tuesday, April 18.

Intramural Softball Again Captures Limelight of Popular Interest

Nine Separate Teams Participate in Sport

Competition Is Expected Keen as Pre-Tourney Warmups Continue.

Trophy Is Ultimate Goal

Commission Under Dewey Allgood's Leadership Has Planned Double Round-Robin Play-Offs.

Softball, in the form of intramural competition, once again has captured popular interest. Officially beginning last Wednesday, April 19, nine teams began the battle in a double round-robin contest for tournament play-offs.

Coch Dewey Allgood and the Intramural Commission have planned the exclusive extra-curricular activity to focus upon the four top teams for tournament play following the double round-robin.

Plans Concern Nature However, rain may prohibit a successful completion of the expedient plans, plus limiting pre-tournament play and an equivalent one round play-off.

The spacious field adjacent to and north of the main gymnasium has been mapped out to support four teams playing two games. The infield has been gone over with careful preparation, and if weather remains favorable, considerable enjoyment should be derived by all participants.

Much responsibility will be placed upon the shoulders of the individual team managers. Each manager is asked to supply an umpire and will be conceded all equipment in his care for the duration of the game.

The ultimate success of the triumphant team will be the presentation of the highly praised intramural softball tournament trophy.

Konvik Look Best
As yet no team has been seeded for top positions, but roster records reveal that the Konvik possess great potential. The Bobcats are also considered to be strong contenders.

Last year ten squads dominated intramural play with the strong Red Sox emerging victorious from the tournament.

One of the most outstanding performances of the track season was put on by Mick Anderson, who ran a brilliant two mile race in the sensational time of 9:40.6. The rugged Bearcat, who recently established new conference indoor records in both the mile and two mile races, also won the mile in the time of 4:33.4.

Al Wormsley of Maryville scored 19 points in winning the shot put, discus, javelin and tying for first in the high jump.

Doane Men Beat Maryville

Victors Gather 74 Points Capturing Ten Events; Maryville Gets 62.

The Maryville track team was beaten by a well balanced Doane College team from Crete, Nebraska, by a score of 74-62. The meet was held April 18 on the Maryville track.

Rolling up ten firsts and 16 seconds and thirds proved to be too much for the Bearcats, who captured only 6 first places. Overwhelming power by the Nebraskans in the relays, javelin, and pole vault was the deciding factor in the Doane victory. They scored 28 points in these four events while holding the host team scoreless!

The Bearcats were strong in the distance events, led by little Mick Anderson's usual double triumph in the mile and two mile runs, and being supported ably by Lane Ulmer who placed second and third in the two longer races.

The locals also showed well in the broad jump, capturing all three places as Dick Schoneemann, with his "back-breaking" jump, went 21 feet for a first in this event.

One of the most outstanding performances of the meet was turned in by Bob McClure, as he traveled the 120 yard high hurdles in a splendid time of :15.3. Bob also placed second in the 220 yard low hurdles.

Lynn Leffert and Norman James also ran well in placing second in the half-mile and 440 yard dash, respectively.

Anderson and Schoneemann both scored 10 points, followed by Al Wormsley with 9 and McClure with 8 to lead the Bearcat scoring.

Bulldogs Will Challenge MIAA Leaders May 5

Kirkville will be pounding hard May 5 to overpower Maryville in a dual track meet here.

The Bulldogs, who earned 9 1-4 points in the indoor meet compared to the Bearcats' 44 5-6, will comparatively have difficulty in occupying a first for five points.

Anderson, McClure, Zuchowski, Wormsley, and Schoneemann, have already proved themselves superior against Kirkville competition, and having been pressed continually in recent meets, have improved their speed and endurance.

Equivocal contests are the 440 and 880 yard runs, but with Leffert, Tripp, and James coming into shape rapidly, Maryville may be well represented.

Previous to the Kirkville meet will be an engagement with Ottawa at Ottawa, May 1, a date which has been changed from April 28. Last year Ottawa was the only team to defeat the Bearcats.

Bearcat Tennis Men Lose to Graceland

Lamonians Capture Three Single Matches and One Double in First Meet.

The first appearance of Maryville's tennis squad for the 1950 campaign ended on a somber note, as the Graceland College Yellow Jackets vanquished the Bearcat courtmen in three of four singles matches and one of the double matches.

The matches were played on the College courts Thursday afternoon, April 6 Graceland gained a bit of vindication for their sprinters, who were being crushed across the way on the cinder track.

Although Maryville players were beaten in four of the six matches, they were more impressive than the results would indicate. After starting rather hap-hazardly the boys settled down to display a good brand of tennis. They showed much promise of being strong bidders in future outings.

Capt. Paul Buskey, Middlebury, '38

Air Intelligence, U.S. Air Force

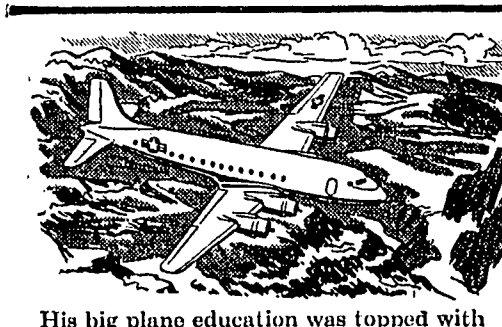

An excellent student at Middlebury College, Vermont, Paul found time to win the coveted All Sports Trophy in his senior year. He graduated in June, 1938.

He then joined a coated paper mill firm as research and control man. Pearl Harbor changed all that—Paul went to Maxwell Field to begin Aviation Cadet training.

An outstanding Cadet, 2nd Lt. Paul Buskey was held over as an instructor after graduation. Then he was assigned as a pilot in the Air Transport Command.

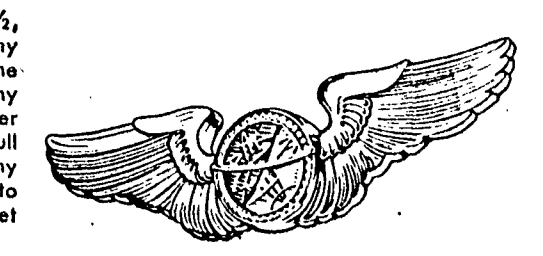

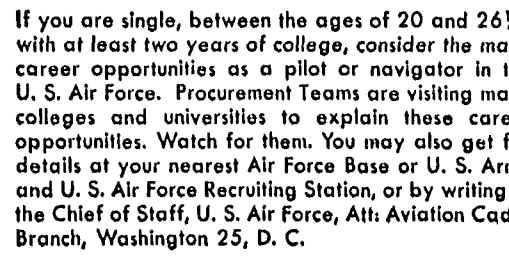

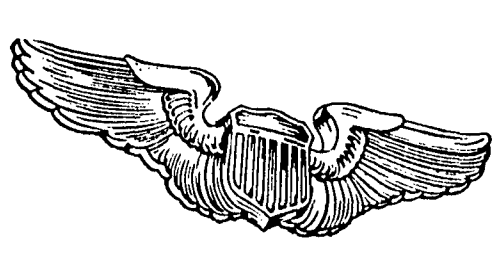

His big plane education was topped with 23 missions over the far-famed "Hump," flying C-54 transports. After V-J Day, he stayed on in the Far East until March of 1948—specializing in Air Intelligence.

Back home, after accepting a Regular Air Force Commission, Captain Buskey went to Air Tactical school, was there rated an outstanding student, and won assignment to Command and Staff school.

Today, Captain Buskey is an Air Intelligence Officer on MATS Headquarters Staff at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D. C. He looks forward to a rewarding future in the U. S. Air Force.

ONLY THE BEST CAN BE AVIATION CADETS!
